Bailey Hired as Consultant to Neat-Oh!

Neat-Oh! has hired child development professional Jean Bailey as a consultant on its Magnutto Activity Sets. The line, which debuted at Toy Fair, uses magnetic facial expressions of people, dinosaurs, and pets to help children express and understand different human emotions. The company is now working with Bailey to develop curricula for parents, teachers, and therapists utilizing Magnutto Activities.

Bailey is a former director of National Lekotek Center. It is a nonprofit organization that provides an array of services to improve the lives of children of all abilities through the utilization of toys and play.
